

An Invitation to Exhibit

2011
ACOI Annual Convention
& Scientific
Sessions in San Antonio

You are cordially invited to participate and exhibit in the forthcoming 70th Annual Convention and Scientific Sessions of the American College of Osteopathic Internists (ACOI), which will be held Oct 12-16, 2011 in San Antonio, TX.

ACOI's recent Annual Conventions have set records for the highest number of physician attendees (over 1,000) in ACOI history. The 2011 meeting is expected to be equally successful. At $1500 per booth, this meeting is an exceptionally cost-effective way to reach a significant number of physicians.

The J.W. Marriott San Antonio Hill Country Resort & Spa Exhibit Hall is spacious and centrally-located, which displays exhibit booths to their full advantage.

To maximize registrant traffic, the College has scheduled a continental breakfast to be served daily in the Hall. A lounge area in the middle of the Exhibit Hall has been designated as the official hospitality center for the Convention, and participants will be directed there for all coffee breaks between educational sessions.

As a final encouragement for registrants to take every opportunity to stroll through the Hall, physicians who have an initialed response card verifying that they have visited each exhibit booth at least once will earn extra CME credit. We look forward to seeing you October 12 in Texas.
