

From President Greco Legislation and Sausage Making

The second session of the 113th Congress was called to order at Noon on Friday, January 3. Awaiting Congress was a lengthy menu of issues to be addressed. Unfortunately, our Legislative Branch has been virtually deadlocked on most legislative issues of significance over the past few years. It calls to mind the saying attributed to John Godfrey Saxe that the making of laws, like sausages, is best left unseen. While this is a terrible affront to those like myself who have a time-honored family tradition of sausage making, there is new hope that the legislative process will yield satisfying results.

Congress began the year by reaching an early bipartisan agreement on funding a $1.1 trillion spending package that ensures the Federal Government will remain open for business through the remainder of Fiscal Year 2014. In addition, for the first time, committees in the House and Senate have agreed on a framework to repeal and replace the untenable Medicare Sustainable Growth Rate (SGR) formula—again, in a bipartisan agreement. While much work remains, the

Internal Medicine, Subspecialty Training Growth Continues

The Annual ACOI Survey of Internal Medicine Residency Programs was completed by DMEs and program directors of all osteopathic internal medicine programs last fall. Information from all programs has been received. There are now 113 approved internal medicine programs, with 106 training residents. That is 10 more programs approved and eight more with trainees than last year. Approved and filled positions both increased significantly again this year. The total number of residents in internal medicine, including combined programs, is 1,624, a 15% increase over last year. There are now more than double the number of filled positions today than there were in 2008-09 (1624-805).

The number of funded internal medicine positions also increased substantially. More than 1850 of the 1981 approved positions are funded. This is up from 1611 last year. Approximately 87% of the funded positions are filled, which is the same as last year.

Important Notice Regarding Osteopathic Continuous Certification

The following is the text of a letter to be sent this month to all AOA-certified internists from the Brad L. Suprenant, DO, Chairman of the American Osteopathic Board of Internal Medicine, and ACOI President Rick A. Greco, DO. It provides important information regarding the requirements for Osteopathic Continuous Certification:

Dear Doctor:

We are writing with regard to the requirements for Osteopathic Continuous Certification (OCC) and how they will impact you as a board-certified internist. As you probably know, OCC replaced the existing method of recertification in 2013. It is being phased in between now and 2022.

The ACOI and AOBIM jointly have created a website to assist you in meeting the requirements of OCC. If you hold a time-limited certificate and your current certificate expires after 2015 you must register with the AOBIM via this website – the OCC Education Center for Internal Medicine (<https://occ-ecim.acoi.org/>). If your certificate expires prior to 1/1/16 you may recertify under the old system on the AOBIM website www.aobim.org.

In addition to registration, the website provides information on the OCC requirements, a personal dashboard to track your progress in meeting the requirements, and access to ACOI's medical knowledge self-assessment modules, which were created as a means to comply with OCC.

messy process of lawmaking has become just a little more palatable over the past few months and additional progress is hoped for before the mid-term elections are upon us later this year.

Gridlock remains a constant threat in Washington, DC. The ACOI Government Affairs Committee, under the leadership of Joseph Giaimo, DO, FACOI, and with the assistance of Deputy Executive Director Tim McNichol, JD and our staff, is persistently monitoring legislation and regulations that will impact our members and their patients. You, too, can participate in the process by contacting your Senators and Representatives. Information on how to do so is contained in the government relations portion of this newsletter and it is particularly important that you do so now regarding the repeal of the SGR formula.

As always, I encourage you to contact me on any and all matters of importance to you, especially those who are interested in the true art of sausage making.

coding CORNER

The ACOI Coding Corner is a column written by Jill M. Young, CPC, CEDC, CIMC. Ms. Young is the Principal of Young Medical Consulting, LLC. She has over 30 years of experience in all areas of medical practice, including coding and billing. Additional information on these and other topics are available at www.acoi.org and by contacting Ms. Young at YoungMedConsult@aol.com.

The information provided here applies to Medicare coding. Be sure to check with local insurance carriers to determine if private insurers follow Medicare's lead in all coding matters.

The Importance of Compliance

Compliance is conformity in fulfilling official requirements. The "why" of compliance is a question frequently asked by physicians. Why do we have to do this? The simple answer is, because you have to. On several levels there are "rules" of compliance that include documentation issues and assignment of codes with specificity.

The 1995 and 1997 Evaluation and Management (E&M) guidelines that all insurance carriers utilize state, "the importance of consistent, complete documentation in the medical record cannot be overemphasized. Without such documentation accurate coding cannot be achieved." ICD-9 diagnostic coding guidelines state that, "adherence to these guidelines when assigning ICD-9-CM diagnosis and procedure codes is required under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA)."

As a practicing physician you are inherently obligated to follow the rules of documentation, coding and billing. These are regulations that have been established by the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS), HIPAA (and other governmental acts) and insurance carriers.

Document all the work you do, code with specificity based on the documentation, submit a claim for that work and receive payment. Compliance has a role in each step. Future Coping with Coding segments will present more details.

Act Now to Repeal the SGR!

The House and Senate committees of jurisdiction have reached agreement on legislation to repeal Medicare's flawed Sustainable Growth Rate (SGR) physician payment formula (H.R. 4015/S. 2000). It is essential that you contact your US representatives to urge them to approve this legislation. With yet another substantial cut in physician reimbursement looming, the timing has never been better for Congress to act. In order to prevent the cut and eliminate the SGR formula for good, final action is needed by the full House and Senate by March 31. Use this link to contact your representatives today and ask them to support this critical legislation <http://capwiz.com/aoa-aoia/issues/alert/?alertid=63084721>.

The negotiated legislation would provide a guaranteed five-year positive update of .5 percent. In addition, beginning in 2018 a new incentive program called the Merit-Based Incentive Payment System (MIPS) would combine the existing Physician Quality Reporting System (PQRS), the Value-based Modifier Program and the electronic health record Meaningful Use programs into one system. Under MIPS payments would be moved from a fee-for-service model to one that promotes outcomes. Payments would be adjusted up or down based on guidelines set under the new program. Another payment incentive program of up to five percent would be established for physicians who receive more than 25 percent of their Medicare compensation from alternative payment models such as a medical home. Under the legislation, a physician would be able to participate in only one incentive program.

While agreement on reforming physician payment policies has been reached, H.R. 4015/S. 2000 does not establish a way to pay for the legislation nor does it include the extension of other expiring provisions under Medicare. It is estimated that the legislation as drafted would cost approximately $128 billion over 10 years. As a result, additional negotiations are ongoing. Absent congressional action, physicians face a nearly 24 percent reduction in Medicare reimbursement when the current extension established under the Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013 expires on March 31. The ACOI will continue to review this legislation and closely monitor the ongoing congressional negotiations to permanently repeal the SGR formula.

CMS Announces Extension of EHR Meaningful Use Attestation for 2013

The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services announced it has extended the deadline for physicians to attest to electronic health record (EHR) meaningful use under the Medicare program from February 28 to March 31. Under the Medicare meaningful use program, physicians can earn up to $44,000 in Medicare incentive payments over five years. Additional information is available at <https://www.cms.gov/Regulations-and-Guidance/Legislation/EHRIncentivePrograms/index.html?redirect=/ehrincentiveprograms/>.

House and Senate Approve Legislation with Funds for Physician Payment Reform

The House and Senate approved S. 25 to reverse cuts to pension benefits for veterans that were enacted through earlier legislation. S. 25 extends Medicare sequestration cuts for one year through 2024 to pay for the legislation. In addition to reversing cuts to veteran cost-of-living adjustments, the legislation sets aside $2.3 billion to help fund future efforts to reform the current SGR formula under Medicare. More than $125 billion dollars must still be identified prior to the enactment of a comprehensive Medicare physician payment package. The legislation was approved by the House and Senate by margins of 326 -90 and 95-3, respectively. The legislation is expected to be signed into law by the President.

Chair of Influential Senate Committee Receives Chinese Ambassadorship

After serving more than 35 years in the Senate, the Senate voted 96-0 in favor of Max Baucus' (D-MT) nomination to become US Ambassador to China. Ambassador Baucus served on the Senate Finance Committee and was instrumental in the advancement of far-reaching legislation. He helped shape healthcare legislation for more than three decades. His impact is certain to remain for years to come. Senator Ron Wyden (D-OR) will be the next Chairman of this influential committee.

Washington Tidbits: Doing the Work of the People in the Light of Day....

If one wants to see what the Senate is doing when the deliberative body is in session, all one has to do is turn to C-SPAN. However, the work of the Senate was not always so visible to the public. In fact, it was the practice of the Senate to conduct its business behind closed doors until a sticky situation arose in Philadelphia.

On February 11, 1794 while meeting at Congress Hall in Philadelphia, the Senate was confronted with the question of whether an elected senator from Pennsylvania had been a US citizen for nine years as required by the Constitution. In order to avoid the appearance of impropriety, the case was conducted in public view. On February 28, 1794 a two-vote majority denied Swiss-born Albert Gallatin his seat in the Senate. Following this action, the Senate permanently opened its proceedings to the public following the construction of a gallery. You can learn more by visiting www.senate.gov.

Osteopathic Continuous Certification

The AOA has indicated that those who do not participate in OCC will be listed as “not in compliance” in the AOA database of certified physicians.

Because the requirements for OCC must be met throughout the certification period, we urge you to visit the Education Center for Internal Medicine today and complete the necessary registration. The OCC process is a new one that we all must become familiar with. The AOBIM and ACOI are ready to assist you with this process.

Sincerely,

Brad L. Suprenant, DO, FACOI
Chairman, AOBIM

Rick A. Greco, DO, FACOI
President, ACOI
